FIRST DAY'S WORK OF LAW-MAKERS MAYOR BUCKLE

Utah Legislature Organizes Both Senate and House-Will Meet in Joint Session at 2 p. m. Tomorrow to Listen to the Reading of Governor Wells's Message.

The fourth session of the Utah Legislature since the granting of Statehood, convened at noon today in the city and county building.

The session bids fair to be a memorable one, though it may not be as stormily momentous as its celebrated predecessor of two years ago,

The complexion of the present Legislature well indicates the uncertainty of the game of politics in this State. Five years ago, on January 6, 1896, Utah assumed the mantle of statehood, and her first Legislature to assemble was hervlly Republican. Hon, George M. Cannon was President of the Senate and Presley Denny Speaker of the House, Hon. Frank J. Cannon and Hon, Arthur Brown were chosen as United States senators at that session. The next Legislature met one year later, January, 1897. The elections of the fall previous had resulted in an overwhelming Democratic victory, and in the Legislature that Governor Wells faced there were only three Republicans in the entire body. Hon, Aquilla Nebeker was chosen President of the Senate and Mr. Perkins of Ogden. Speaker of the House. It was at this session that Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins was elected to the United States Senate, a position which he still holds.

Two years later came in another Democratic Legislature, and the fruitless struggle to elect a United States senator is too fresh in everyone's minds o need referring to, At this session Mr. Nebeker was again chosen President of the Senate and Mr. Roylance of Springrille was elected Speaker of the House. Two more years have rolled by, and the pendulum has swung again to the Republican side: the fall elections of 1900, which resulted in a Republican landslide, saw that party victorious here as well as elsewhere; the Democrats saved the Senate by a close maority, but the Republicans won House by a vote large enough to give them a decisive majority on joint ballot, them a decisive majority on joint ballot, and thus to assure them the United States senator, that is, assuming that they do not repeat the fatal blunder made by the Democrats two years ago, and break up, leaving the high position unfiles.

The number of candidates for the senatorship and the prominence of the gentlemen who have entered the race, make the senatorial question easily the one of overtowering interest, among the many which will confront the Legislators, and until it is disposed of, there is ittle other business apt to be thought

Under the law, the first baflot for senator must be taken on Tuesday, the 22nd. It is not unlikely however, that the conflict may be precipitated in a Republican caucus called in advance of that date, and whether or not that caucus shall be called, is the question of absorbing interest just at the present

SENATE ORGANIZATION.

Senator Allision Presents a Protest Against Seating of Senator Barnes.

At 12 o'clock the gavel of Secretary of State Hammond fell and the Senate of the Utah Legislature was called to of the Utah Legislature was called to order. The members elect arose and the oath of office was administered to them by Chief Justice James A. Miner. Secretary Hammond announced that the election of President was then in order, and Senator Whitney placed Senator Abel John Evans of Utah county in nomination, and Senator George N. Lawrence pompined Senator Chief. N. Lawrence nominated Senator Joseph Howell of Cache county. The vote was taken by roll call, which resulted in the election of Mr. Evans, who received ten votes, and Mr. Howell was given eight otes, the former being Democratic, and the latter Republican.

The chair then appointed Senators Hewell and Whitney to escort President Evans to the chair. President earn Evans to the chair. President Eavis was greeted with applause and then proceeded to make a few opening remarks. He thanked the Senate for the high honor it had conferred upon him and begged the members to bear with him in his position. He pledged himself to perform his duties to the best of his abilities, keeping uppermost in himself to perform his duties to the best of his abilities, keeping uppermost in his mind the welfare of the people of the State. He expressed the hope that the Senate would expedite the business that was before it with all possible dispatch, so that on the day designated it will have completed its labors, that no unnecessary expense or burden would be added upon the people of the State. Senator Klesel then presented a resolution recommending the officers agreed wion recommending the officers agreed n in the Democratic caucus on Satur-

PROTEST AGAINST BARNES.

Senator E. M. Allison then presented protest against the seating of Senator John G. M. Barnes, in behalf of E. P. Ellison, of Davis county. The peti-tion made many allegations, the same that were filed in the district court, and dismissed by Judge Rolapp on the ground that the court had no jurisdic-tion. The contest was then appealed to the supreme court, but that tribunal confirmed the action of the lower court. At the conclusion of the reading of the petition, Senator Allison moved that a committee of five be appointed to consider the petition and to have full

Senator Smoot moved an amendment to the effect that the matter be referred to the regular election commit-tee. Senator Allison said that he would have no objections to the regular com-mittee if the president would appoint it as soon as possible, as he thought that it was a matter to be expedited. A communication was then received from the House announcing that its permanent organization had been effeeted and was ready to proceed to Senator Whitney moved that the Democratic Senators occupy seats on the north side of the chamber and the Republican senators on the south side. The motion was adopted.

SEATS CHOSEN.

On motion of Senator Tanner a committee of three, consisting of Senators Tanner, Alder and Kiesel, was appointed in connection with the House committee consisting of Representatives Smith, Hamlin and Holtzheimer to wait upon the governor and inform him that the Legislature is organized and pre-pared for business.

A communication directed to Senator Whitmore from J. C. Leary Jr., was read, asking him to prevail upon the Senate to appoint a large reception committee to join with the citizens' committee in meeting the Wyoming legislature that is due to arrive in this city tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock,

A motion was made that a committee of three be appointed to join the House committee for the purpose named. The motion prevailed and the following senators were appointed: Bennion, Allison and Whitmore. Senator Smoot moved that the Senate attend the opening of the stock conven-tion tomorrow morning in company with the Wyoming Legislature, The motion prevailed, Senator Kiesel announced in behalf of the Governor that the chief executive would deliver his message to the Legislature tomorrow afternoon at 2 On motion of Senator Alder the following committee of five was appointed to wait upon the Wyoming legislature and invite it to attend the session of the Legislature tomorrow: Senators Alder, Howell, Smoot and Whitney, The Senate then adjourned until 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

HOUSE ORGANIZATION. Organization Accomplished Without any Notable Incident.

The House of Representatives was called to order at 12:10 o'clock by Secretary of State Hammond. Representatives' hall had been scrupulously cleaned for the occasion, and was conspicuously resplendent with its new carpet to say nothing of the splendid specimen of Old Glory which covered the wall behind the speaker's platform, the national flag which covered the front of his desk and the smaller banners which were tastefully suspended from the chadeliers, or the pro-fusion of roses and carnations which adorned the desks of the speaker and

After the House had been called to order Representative Benner X. Smith moved that the representation present be ascertained. The roll was then called showing that all members were present except Representative Harmon, of Emery.

ELECTION OF A SPEAKER.

The next order of business was announced by the chair to be the election of a speaker. Rep-resentative Van Horne was accorded the privilege of the floor and in a speech of considerable eloquence, nominated Wm. Glasmann of Weber: The nomination was seconded by Representative Barrett of Beaver. Representative O. P. Hatch was nominated by Representative Rulon S. He said that he thought it would be in better taste for him not to speak at great length in anticipation of the Governor's speech. He exhorted the House not to let the grass grow under its feet, but get down to work at once. The oath of office was administered to the new speaker by Justice Raskin of the Suspeaker by Justice Baskin of the Su-

The rules of the last Legislature were adopted temporarily. The minor effi-cers of the House were then called be-fore the platform and sworn by the secretary of state.

DIVISION OF SEATS.

Representative Evans moved that the Republicans and the Democrats seat themselves on separate sides of the House. Representative McFarland, of Weber, being 69 years old, was accorded the choice of seats on the Republican—the west—side of the House, while Representative Page of Piute, was accorded the honor as the oldest member on the Democratic side.

TO WAIT ON THE GOVERNOR.

Representative Benner X. Smith moved that a committee be appointed to wait on the Governor. The chair appointed Messrs. Smith, Hamlin and Holtzheimer.

Representative Hatch presented a ommunication from the Nation-l Live Stock accosiation, announcing that a representative from the legislature of Wyoming would ar-rive in Salt Lake tomorrow to attend the Live Stock convention. Represen-tatives Van Horne, Axton and Hatch were appointed a committee to meet the Wyoming legislators at the Short Line depot at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The convention and reception the Knutsford will be attended the visitors and their escorts from both houses of the legislature.

At one o'clock a recess was taken to allow the House committee to apprise the Governor of the fact that the Leg-islature of the State of Utah is now in session, and await word from the chief The House was called to order again at 1:25 o'clock, when it was announced that the Governor's message would be delivered to a joint session of the Leg-islature at 2 o'clock Tuesday. Some discussion was had whether the ommittee on rules consists of three or five members. It was finally decided that five was a more appropriate number, and the chair appointed Messrs. Hatch, Holmgren, Smith, Van Horne and Wells, immediately after which the House adjourned till 1:39 Tuesday.

"SUSPENDS" DOOLY

But Chairman of the Board of Public Works Will Not "Suspend."

HOT LETTERS EXCHANGED.

Acting Executive Demands Mr. Dooly's Resignation by 2:30 p.m. Today-It Was Not Forthcoming.

ad 4 hd Mayor Buckle rem Dooly A decided sensation was sprung in municipal circles on Saturday night when Acting Mayor Buckle sent a communication to Chairman John E. Dooly of the board of public works requesting his resignation not later than 2:30 today. The letter reads as follows:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12, 1901. "Dear Sir-Papers on file in the office of the county clerk, show that on the of the county clerk, show that or, which can be shown that of the off day of February, Nineteen Hundred, you qualified to the office of director of the "Incorporation known by the name and style of Utah Savings and Trust Company," And the records in the office of the city recorder show that this company is not been been esting since the pany is and has been acting since the date of your qualification as bondsmen to several contractors doing business with this city in an amount aggregating over one hundred and twenty thousand ollars ($120,000). I am also informed by E. W. Genter, Esq., the manager and secretary of the above named company, that said company is advancing money to at least one of the contractors doing business with the City of Salt Lake.

Faragraph 285, page 149 of the Revised Statutes reads as follows:

"Chairman. No member to be interested in contracts. The chairman of such board shall devote all necessary time to the performance of his official time to the performance of his official duty, and no member of such board shall ever be directly or indirectly interested in any contract entered into by them on behalf of such city, nor shall he be interested either directly or indirectly in the purchase of any material to be used or applied in or about terial to be used or applied in or about the use or purposes contemplated by this chapter—('90, p. 63)."

In my judgment the above reasons disqualify you for the position of chairman of the board of public works of this city, and in any event the best interests of Salt Lake City demand that you tender your resignation which you will please have reach me not later that 2:30 o'clock p. m. on Monday, January 14, 1901. Respectfully. GEO. BUCKLE, Acting Mayor,

MR. DOOLY'S REPLY.

Mr. Dooly declares positively that he did not receive Mr. Buckle's letter. The latter says that he mailed it in the pres. ence of a reliable witness, Mr. Dooly's first information concerning the matter, he said, came to him yesterday while reading the morning papers. Today Mr. Buckle registered a copy of the same letter and sent it direct to Mr. Dooly with a special postoffice messenger and received the following reply:

"Dear Sir:-I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your valued favor of the 12th inst., which was received at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and in reply, I beg to state, that the papers referred to in the office of the county clerk, at the date and time stated, are doubtless correct. The statement of Mr. E. W. Genter, I know nothing of.

"Answering further: The paragraph of the Revised Statutes refurred to, has no bearing upon the case. I am not a director of the corporation named, and am not in any way legally disqualified from holding the office of the chairman of the board of public works.

I particularly note the paragraph in your letter, to wit:

your letter, to wit;

"In my judgment the above reasons disqualify you for the position of chairman of the board of public works of this city and in any event the best interests of Salt Lake demand that you tender your resignation which you will please have reach me not late than 2:30 p. m., on Monday, January 14, 1901."

I perceive of no reason why I should question your erubite "judgment." Your varied experience in municipal and State affairs should make that "judgment" infallible and the law entirely obsolete.

I hope in the execution of your threat you may work the municipality a lasting benefit. In the meantime, I have the honor to remain. Yours very respectfully. JOHN E. DOOLY. spectfully.

UP TO THE COUNCIL. The following is a copy of a com-munication filed with the city recorder this afternoon by Acting Mayor George

"January 14th, 1901.
"To the Honorable Members of the City Council.

"Gentlemen-I respectfully notify your honorable body that I have this day suspended the Hon. John E. Dooly as chairman of the board of public works of this city, for the reasons set forth in the communication address to him under date of January 12th, 1901, a copy of which I herewith forward to you, and I submit the same for your approval. "Very respectfully

"GEORGE BUCKLE, "Acting Mayor." WHAT LAWYERS SAY. The opinion of Powers, Straup & Lippman is couched in the following language:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12, 1901. Hon. George Buckle, Acting Mayor, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Salt Lake City, Utah:
In response to your inquiry, where you substantially ask: Is it lawful for a member of the board of public works to knowingly aid in letting a contract for public work for the city to one upon whose bond of the latter for the faithful performance of such contract such member of said board is a director and stockholder of a corporation who is surety thereon, and which said corporation advances and loans to such said contractor the necessary such said contractor the necessary money and means to prosecute and car-ry on said contract work; and if such member has repeatedly and knowingly participated in such proceedings and persists in so doing, it is sufficient cause for his removal, we have to say:

Section 285, Revised Statutes of Utah, such board (the board of public works) shall devote all necessary time to the performance of his official duty, and no member of such board shall ever be directly or indirectly interested in any contract entered into by them on be-half of such city, nor shall he be in-terested either directly or indirectly in the purchase of any material to be used or applied in or about the use or purposes contemplated by this chap-

We think under the above provisions and indirectly" interested in such said contract. The corporation advances and loans money to the contractor; it is a surety upon his bond for the proper fulfillment of the terms of the contractor. tract, and for the proper performance of the work, and is liable to the city for breaches of the said contract, and said corporation surety to make good the loss and damage to the city.

Corporations mainly transact their business through their board of direc-Should any difference arise ove any breach of the contract where said surety is called to respond, such said member of the board of public works would be acting both for the city and for the corporation surety. He would command himself to act and he would notify himself whether he would act. What would be the loss or gain of the corporation in the premises would be his individual loss or gain as a stockholder. His interest in the contract and in the premises is the same as though he himself were a surety; and differing only in degree. An agent or officer cannot put himself in the position adverse to that of his principal or where his private interests may pal, or where his private interests may be antagonistic to that of his princi-pal. This applies with greater force to public officers whose positions are that of trust and confidence toward the city. It is plain such member has placed himself in a position which may be adverse to that of the city, and if a controversy arises between the city on the one hand and the corporation surety on the other, whose interest is he going to subserve? In addition to the statute above quoted, the following authorities support us in our opinion: Troop on Public officers, Sec. 610-613.

and cases there cited. In the performance of duties where public officers are interested, it has been held that they may perform such duties where they are merely ministerial, but can it do so where they are judicial or quasi-judicial? And con-tracts have been held void which were made by or participated in by such in-terested members in respect to such duties, judicial or quasi-judicial in their nature. The duty which the board of public works performs in letting contracts of public works and superintending and supervising the same, is not ministerial or judicial. We also think that where such member has knowingly participated in such said proceeding and knowingly let contracts of public work under such said circumstances and in defiance of law, there is just cause for his removal. Very truly, POWERS STRAUP & LIPPMAN. POWERS, STRAUP & LIPPMAN.

ALL THE HOTELS ARE FULL

Cattlemen Gather at the Knutsford to Secure Their Credentials and Badges.

Every train that has pulled into Salt

Lake today has been loaded down to the guards with happy humanity in the form of stockmen and their families.

They have come from all points of the compass. All the hotels in town are full to overflowing and still the cry is "They are coming." The stockman of neat and natty attire, wearing the correct Regian overcoat is in evidence, likewise his brother clad in the typical fur coat, happy smile and broadbrimmed hat. They are a joyous crowd and the number and colors of diversified badges that deck their expansive chests are legion. All breeds and brands of badges are in evidence upon the streets today, from the gilded bee-hive of the Chicago delegation, the big steer head of Kansas City down to the unique white hat and rabbit's foot of the gentlemen from St. Joe. The atmosphere is generally surcharged with for-eign idioms and divers phrases which are as Greek to the uninitiated, while at stated intervals the roundups of sturdystriding men, under the leadership of the bell-wether, make sudden stampedes in the direction of divers swinging doors to later emerge upon the side-walk and resume the interrupted yarn. Down as the gally decorated Knuts-ford hotel chaos has been apparently the order during the livelong day. nevertheless all have been attended to as they have presented their credentials. A long table in the southwest corner of the rotunda has been the rallying point for every stranger as he comes to town. Here he presents his credentials, is reg. istered and then furnished with an offiistered and then furnished with an om-cial program, a coupon book, entitling him to all the privileges of the enter-tainments that are to be held for his special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private resi-dences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment

With the advent of the sun this morn ing the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises, with the result that by the time the convention opens tomorrow the entire town will have taken upon itself a gala appearance. Prominent among the decorations in evidence is an elaborate design by the Lace House; Auerbach's also are getting out their bunting and stretching it across the face of their building in long streamers. The linemen of the Utah Power and Electric Light company also have been busy since Saturday in putting up additional arc lights and the American flag, bee hive and big welcome emblems which will have the effect of transforming East Temple street as soon as the sun

Vast Array of Legal Talent Em. ployed on Both Sides,

BE A LONG, HARD FIGHT.

It is Estimated that it Will Cover a Period of Several Weeks-To be Tried Before Judge Morse,

Judge Morse sat in his court a short. time this morning and heard the arguments of the various attorneys in the cases of Salt Lake City et al vs Salt Lake City Water & Electric Power company; Joseph Geoghegan, receiver, vs Salt Lake City; Joseph Geoghegan, receiver; vs Utah & Salt Lake Canal

The South Jordan Milling company asked leave to file a complaint in intervention; objection was made by some of the other parties; overruled, and order made with leave to strike

Judge Hiles & M. M. Wanan, on motion of Attorney L. R. Rogers, en-tered their appearance for the Salt, Lake City Water and Electric Power

There was then a general discussion between the attorneys representing the various litigants as to which of the cases should be tried first, the injunc-tion suits which involve the right of the city and others to store water in Utah Lake for use next summer, or those cases which are to determine the amount of water each party to the actions is entitled to.

There was a formidable array of legal Judge Hiles, L. R. Rogers, Judge Henderson, James H. Moyle, Waldemar Van Cott, F. S. Richards, John M. Cannon, Arthur Brown, F. B. Stephens, and

It will take several weeks to try these cases, and the battle will be a hard fought one, as large and important in-terests are involved.

ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER.

This morning Frank C. Garland, who shot Norton Williams at Bingham several weeks ago, was arraigned in Justice Kroeger's court on the charge of murder in the first degree. Garland entered a plea of not guilty and his examination was set for next Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Garland is represented by the firm of Powers, Straup and Lipman . It will be remembered that a shooting scrape occurred in the Oxford saloon on the night of December 22nd, in which young Norton Williams of Sandy was shot in the head. The day following Williams was brought to this city and taken to the hospital. On the 28th of the same month Williams died and Garland was accused of murder in the first degree.
